

SEASONAL FEATURE

HISTORY

Joe Atria came to America with a dream. He wanted to provide for his family and start a business he could be proud of. After settling in Mt. Lebanon, Pa., Joe bought a small piece of property and turned it into his very own grocery store.

Joe's attention to detail and quality made the store a neighborhood success, and he soon expanded the business to include a barbershop and dry cleaning store. In 1933, when prohibition ended, Joe was ready with another great idea for his customers. Cold six packs to go. It wasn't long before Atria's became the favorite watering hole for people of all walks of life.

Today, Atria's Restaurant and Tavern has grown even more. But we still keep Joe's dream alive and do things the way he did. By giving customers a comfortable place to relax, quench a thirst, enjoy a great meal, share a laugh, and celebrate the little things that make life good.

Good to be here.

Thanks for making Atria's your place to celebrate.
